Dear Infant Inc,

Being the first time hearing about your organization and the wonderful things you do, I was very excited to give a layette to my first client with a baby. The day I arrived at my clients' home my client was not expecting the gift at all. My client was talking about wanting to get more clothes for the baby and receiving this gift was the best thing that happened to her. The excitement and joy of opening the gift was great. I could see how happy she was with every little item in the basket. For every item in the basket she had a comment. She absolutely loved the knitted blankets; she said it went well now that winter is coming. Knowing the circumstances my client is in it was very nice to share this happy and exciting moment with her. On my part thank you to all for putting that smile on my clients.
